Here is disclosed a disposable wearing article comprising a holder member which is composed of a front waist region, a 5 rear waist region and a crotch region and a bodily discharge receiving member. The holder member is formed with a through-hole in the crotch region while the receiving member has a protrusion adapted to be inserted into the through-hole from the outer side of the wearing article and to define a 10 concavity which can receive and retain bodily discharges.
